Greetings Friends,

Recent studies show that African American girls are doing worse than the national average on almost every measure of academic achievement. With suspension rates that are six times the rate of their counterparts, these girls are statistically three times more likely to be incarcerated by the age of 21. The Crowned Academy Mentorship Program & Summer Camp for Girls has set out on a mission to combat these staggering statistics through a quadrilateral mentorship model that implements faith, education, community support and sisterhood to aid in the overall development and formation of young African American girls.

On June 19 -23, 2017 TCA will host our 2nd annual week-long summer experience that will apply biblical principles to assist young ladies in discovering their divine purpose. Through an interactive study of various women in the Bible and America's History this camp endeavors to tackle present day issues of low self-esteem, body image, peer pressure, depression, and sexual identity while educating young girls on the negative effects of bullying, sexting and poor health and eating habits. In addition to these components campers will participate in daily workshops on various topics such as owning your own business, obtaining a career in the STEM fields, running for public office, and pursuing an Ivy League education. This year's Summer Camp will take place at Alliance Christian Academy in Portsmouth, Va. and will include various activities such as horseback riding, an HBCU college tour, a mock "Shark Tank" competition and a professional self-esteem photoshoot for each camper. Our mission is to ensure that every girl leaves owning her own title and confidently wearing the crown of a daughter of a King!

We kindly ask that you will prayerfully consider partnering with The Crowned Academy by becoming a 2017 Sponsor. It takes an entire Kingdom to raise up a young queen, and your contribution will greatly assist in our efforts to break and recreate new statistics for African Americans in today's society. Our tuition fee does not completely cover all of our expenses, so we rely on the support of faithful partners in our community like you. Your church, business, organization or ministry can also host a scholarship(s) in your name ($125 per scholarship) for one of our girls. In return, we will acknowledge your organization, ministry, business or personal donation across several mediums—based on your sponsorship level.

We are excited about this opportunity and the work that God has commissioned us to do as servant leaders in our community. Our goal is to organize seven chapters in every city across Hampton Roads by the year 2019 and create a partnering program for African American boys. We hope that we can count on you to partner with us in this divine endeavor.

For sponsorship levels, please see the next page. Thank you in advance for your careful and prayerful consideration.

Blessings,
Minister T.L. Chisholm
